Every meaningful journey begins with a dream — and Chaipatii was born from ours.

We are Harsh and Rajiv, two friends who shared not just conversations over chai, but also a vision to create something truly special. The idea of Chaipatii did not come easily. It was shaped through long nights of planning, countless discussions, moments of doubt, and an unwavering belief that chai has the power to connect hearts.

Our journey was filled with struggles. There were challenges that tested our patience, times when the path seemed uncertain, and days when the dream felt far away. But we chose persistence over comfort. We worked harder, learned faster, and stood firmly by each other, because we knew this dream was worth building.

Before opening Chaipatii, we carefully pre-planned every step — from taste to experience, from quality to comfort. Every detail was thoughtfully developed by the two of us, with one clear purpose in mind: to build not just a tea outlet, but a brand that brings people together.

For us, Chaipatii is more than chai. It is an emotion. It is a connection. It is a growing community.

Our vision is high and clear — to create a space where strangers become friends, conversations flow freely, and every cup of chai makes people feel included in the Chaipatii family.
